BRIEF BIOGRAPHY

Jessica Krohn, a licensed social worker, and New York native, is the founder and chief consultant for D.I.R.E.C.T. Consulting. Ms. Krohn's career and training have focused on identifying, responding, investigating and preventing acts of violence throughout the lifespan. Ms. Krohn has worked within the community's local child welfare and criminal justice systems; serving as a witness, and submitting petitions, investigations and reports to the courts. In 2012, Ms. Krohn transferred her skills and experience where she served an integral role in enhancing the university's sexual and interpersonal violence prevention and response efforts. Ms. Krohn remains active in her community, serving on various boards and coalitions.

Having worked in the public and non-profit sectors and within educational institutions, she offers a unique perspective and knowledge on navigating institutional and agency violence response and prevention efforts and policies. Ms. Krohn's passion resonates in her work. Her dynamic and friendly approach creates an environment of support and enthusiasm that inspire team work, collaboration and social impact.
